

Commencement 1983

Saint Joseph's celebrated Commencement exercises on May 1, with the awarding of 157 baccalaureate degrees and 2 associate degrees as well as 32 degree candidates. Father Charles Banet, president, asked the guest of honor, The Most Reverend George A. Fulcher, S.T.D., D.D., to preside. This was his first official visit to Saint Joseph's College after his installation on April 14, 1983 as Bishop of Lafayette.

The valedictorian address was given by Peggy Joan Hansen, B.S. in Accounting and Finance, of Downers Grove, IL. Lori Jean Rohwedder, recipient of the Alumni Board's Senior of the Year award, also addressed the assembly.

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., President of Notre Dame for 31 years, was conferred an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree, his 94th. In his address, Father Hesburgh said that commencement is a new beginning for the graduates who were born into an interesting and challenging age with great opportunities. But the ultimate commencement, he said, is the one into eternity. "If you don't set aside some corner of your life to serve some less fortunate than you, your life will not be meaningful." On that ultimate day of judgement, he reminded, all we will have to show is what we have given away of ourselves.

Recalling the admonition, "Whatsoever you do to the least of my brethren, this you do unto me," Father Hesburgh asked the graduates to think in terms of the four C's: competence, compassion, commitment and consecration — to get involved in alleviating the suffering and injustices in the world. "Forty-thousand children die every day . . . due to disease and lack of food — that's a Hiroshima every two days . . . and you are now in a position to do something positive about feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, helping the sick, and taking in strangers — the least of God's brethren." He cited Albert Schweitzer, Tom Dooley and Mother Theresa as examples of dedicated service to others.

Father Hesburgh is ranked among the top scholars in the fields of religion and education. He has received, among numerous other awards, the nation's highest civil honor, the Medal of Freedom, from President Lyndon Johnson.

NEH Awards $400,000 Challenge Grant

Father Charles Banet, President, recently announced that Saint Joseph's College has received a $400,000 challenge grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The grant must now be matched by $1.2 million which will be part of our ongoing Capital Campaign.

NEH is an independent agency of the federal government whose sole purpose is to award grants to colleges, museums, and individuals. NEH challenge grants encourage financial growth and stability within institutions and organizations in order to promote work of recognizable merit in the humanities. Through the challenge grant, an institution may receive one federal dollar for every three non-federal dollars raised. The non-federal funds must be either from new sources of giving or from increased contributions by existing donors.

Each application for a challenge grant is reviewed by a panel. Each panelist then makes a recommendation as to funding. Panelists without exception rated Saint Joseph's application, written by Dr. John Nichols, director of the Core program, very high.

The college has until May 31, 1986 to raise the $1.2 million matching funds. The first $100,000 of the grant award has already been forwarded to the school.

The award is specified to endow the Core program. The money will be invested to provide a strong fiscal base for the program's future.

Core: Backbone of SJC

The Core curriculum was introduced to the freshman class of 1969. The graduating class of 1983 will have been the eleventh class to complete the full four-year cycle of Core which has received both national and international attention as one of the few interdisciplinary programs that has been truly successful.

The Core program replaced what used to be a 54 credit, mainly lower level and distributive approach to general education, with a 45 credit, integrative and interdisciplinary program. The requirements are incorporated into a four-year sequence that is mandatory for all students regardless of major.

In order to offset the trend toward overspecialization and vocationalization, Core is strongly generalist and humanist in nature. It emphasizes the value of becoming a "self-worth being", of leading a genuinely human existence. The program maintains an openness to insights into the nature of man and the human situation that come from a whole range of academic disciplines and methods.

Core was specifically developed with certain goals in mind. The program offers opportunities for student growth both along personal and academic lines. It stresses the development of oral and written communication skills, interaction within a Christian environment, and the incorporation of Christian values into personal life.

The attitude on campus towards Core is positive. The program demands that the student become actively involved and challenges, not only students, but faculty in that the problems posed are constantly changing.

Saint Joseph's has yearly as many as 100 inquiries from college and universities in the United States and abroad regarding the program. The key to its success, however, must be attributed primarily to the full-time dedication that faculty demonstrate: the program demands an open-mindedness and a willingness to expand without reserve beyond one's specialty into other unknown academic territories. It becomes an exciting, intellectually broadening experience for everyone.

Thanks from Admissions

The Office of Admissions is grateful for the generous help many alumni/ae have provided in this year's student recruitment efforts. The Freshmen enrollment is looking very positive, although no final figures will be available until fall. SJC's alumni is one of the best sources for such recruitment, and we are grateful for your efforts. Should you know of any person that might be interested in Saint Joseph's, please contact us at (219) 866-7111, ext. 170.

Scholarship Dinner is Great Success

The 1983 Scholarship Dinner held April 15 at the Ambassador Hotel, Chicago, was the most successful in SJC's history. The black tie dinner-dance raised over $50,000 to be applied to scholarship aid during the 1983-84 academic year.

Philip Wilhelm and Michael Davis, co-chairmen, made the announcement to the 217 persons assembled at this annual event which has become a tradition for Saint Joseph's friends and alumni.

Since the financial situation of all independent colleges is delicate, and since enrollment — so crucial to an institution of higher learning — is greatly affected by the ever widening chasm in tuition costs and scholarship support capacity, the availability of scholarship funds for deserving students becomes increasingly urgent as the years go on.

The annual Scholarship Dinner is one method by which Saint Joseph's College meets the demand. Each year the college honors at this event the top academically ranked male and female as determined by seven semesters of study. This year the honors went to Peggy Joan Hansen, B.S. in Accounting and Finance, from Downers Grove, Illinois and to Daniel Rodriguez, B.S. in Political Science, from East Chicago, Illinois.

Ann Wilhelm, mother of Phil, celebrated her birthday as well as the party.

Rohwedder Named Senior of the Year

Lori Rohwedder, B.S. in Computer Science and Mathematics, was named Senior of the Year by Saint Joseph's Alumni Association on the basis of outstanding academic achievement and extracurricular activities.

Lori achieved a 3.92 average over a seven semester period on the college's 4.00 point scale. She has been consistently on the Dean's list. Her extracurricular activities include: Union Board; treasurer, Pro-Life Club; chorus and eucharistic minister, Campus Ministry; Computer Club; freshman dormitory Student Life Subcommittee

Parents Dinner - Dance Nets $10,000

On Saturday, April 23, the Saint Joseph's College Parents Association sponsored its annual dinner-dance for members and friends from the greater Chicago-northern Indiana area. About 120 people attended the gala evening's festivities, which netted $10,000.

The dinner-dance is the vehicle for the drawing for the annual fund raiser for Saint Joseph's. As in the past several years, five $1,000 prizes were the awards for the winners of people who subscribed to the drawing at $10 a chance.

The winners of those five $1,000 awards were: Gloria O'Drobinak, Hammond, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Neill, Chicago Heights, Illinois; R. A. Parke, Greenfield, Indiana; Pete Plinski, Crystal Lake, Illinois; E. Romano, Steger, Illinois. This was the first year when all winners were from either Indiana or Illinois. In addition, four $100 door prizes were awarded and three liquor baskets were raffled off.

HOMECOMING '83
OCTOBER 1

president's corner

Father Charles Banet

As we progress further and further into our Capital Campaign, I am deeply gratified by the support, the understanding and the willingness that is exhibited by our alumni/ae to commit financially to Saint Joseph's College. What is particularly encouraging in this regard is that it isn't only the successful, professional alumni that are contributing, but the younger graduates — those only a few years out of college who are not as established in their careers as others who have greater longevity in them.

It is these alumni who will help us reach and, we believe, surpass, our $7 million goal. As the president of Saint Joseph's, I am proud to serve, not only the college, but to represent you, our alumni/ae, as well. Nothing brings into focus the true feelings of our graduates as when they are asked to give financial support. As we go out to meet you, we have received none but warm and attentive welcomes. Your loyalty is deeply appreciated.

I would like to say that asking for money is not the job everybody fights to get. But the reality of education is that no institution, whether private or public, whether educational or cultural, can long survive without private support. Such efforts are not for the sake of money; they are for what money can do. Money can improve the quality of educational programs, of faculty, of students, of facilities. It helps keep abreast of changing needs. It pays the bills.

Saint Joseph's Capital Campaign, pledges to be accepted over a 5-year period, has raised nearly $6 million; 2.5 million of that sum has already been received. These proceeds are paying for the renovation and reconstruction projects now ongoing.

The National Endowment for the Humanities' one to three matching grant of $400,000 to endow Saint Joseph's CORE program requires us to raise an additional $1.2 million by May 31, 1986. We have complete confidence that, with your generous, and in some instances even sacrificial help, we will succeed.

In Memoriam

Saint Joseph's College deeply regrets the death, on April 10, of Board of Trustee member Ray Ziegman, 80, of Orrville, Ohio.

Ray Ziegman

Mr. Ziegman was a 1922 graduate of Saint Joseph's College. For 50 years he was manager of Quality Castings Co., Orrville, active in Boy's Club and Boy Scouts, for which he received the Silver Beaver Boy Scout Award. He was also an active participant in parish work, which, in 1962, earned him the Benemerenti Medal from Pope John XXIII for outstanding service to the church. In 1974, he was named Paul L. Powell Citizen of the Year and Boy's Club Man of the Year.

Saint Joseph's College, however, remembers him as a kind and generous patron of the institution. He served as a member of the Board of Trustees for 26 years and was morally and financially dedicated to the college's growth and stability. He will be deeply missed by all those who knew him and worked with him. He was a Christian gentleman who lived a philosophy of service to others before service to self.

At the April 15 Board of Trustees meeting in Chicago, the Board passed a unanimous resolution which, in part, makes "formal acknowledgement of its grievous loss by the passing from this life of Ray Ziegman who labored well in the love of service of his fellow man, especially the young . . ." by memorializing his name in all academic scholarships to be awarded for 1983-84.

Mr. Ziegman is survived by his wife, Ruth, his son, William, and daughter, Julie Hood, as well as three brothers, two sisters, eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Father Norman Heckman, 67, professor emeritus of chemistry, died at Saint Joseph's College on January 31, 1983.

Downard Named ACE Fellow

President J. W. Peltason of the American Council on Education recently announced in Washington, D.C., the selection of Dr. William L. Downard, chairman of the department of history, as an ACE Fellow in the 1983-84 ACE Fellows Program in Academic Administration.

The program is designed to strengthen leadership in American higher education by identifying and preparing faculty and staff for responsible positions in academic administration. Thirty-five to forty-five Fellows, nominated by the presidents or chancellors of their institutions, are selected each year in a national competition.

Dr. Downard, '63, has been teaching history at Saint Joseph's College since 1969. He received his MA degree from the University of Cincinnati in 1964 and a Ph.D. from Miami University (OH) in 1969. A recipient of the Edwin G. Kaiser Faculty Scholar Award in 1981, Downard is the author of two books on the brewing and distilling industries and has also written a number of articles for scholarly journals. He succeeded Fr. Donald Shea as chairman of the history department in 1976 and served as acting vice president for academic affairs during semester I of 1982-83.

Typically, each ACE Fellow during the academic year, either at the home institution or on a host campus, is assigned to a college or university president and chief academic officer to participate in task oriented administrative activities. Fellows attend three five-day seminars dealing with higher education issues, read extensively in the field, produce an analytical report, and engage in other activities to prepare them for administrative careers in higher education.

Iles Inducted to Hall of Fame

Dan Iles, '70, was inducted into the Sports Hall of Fame on April 23. Dan was honored at a dinner attended by former Hall of Famers and other guests of the college.

Dan Iles

Dan is regarded as the top wrestler in the history of the college: lettered for the Puma's during the 1968-70 seasons, he compiled individual records of 8-2-0 as a junior and 10-1-0 as a senior. In 1970, Dan was the IIAA 167 pound champion and placed fourth in the National Catholic Tournament.

Dan is the first Puma who is not a football, basketball, or baseball player to be so honored. He presently resides with his wife and family in Palos Heights, Illinois.

Meetings of the Many

During the past six months, Saint Joseph's Alumni Office has been busy organizing alumni gatherings in various cities throughout the Midwest. It is hoped that these get togethers enable all of us to get reacquainted, to catch up on old and new happenings, to keep informed as to what's going on at the college, to offer suggestions, and to build and rebuild ties between the college and its graduates.

Saint Joseph's College has always been proud that its alumni is a spirited, dedicated group that wants to get involved if given a chance. An active alumni give the college strength and tradition, so necessary to the long-range fiscal and academic health of the institution.

Past gatherings were held in Ashland, Akron, Cincinnati, Dayton, Fort Wayne, Lafayette, Evansville, Indianapolis, Northwest Indiana, South Bend, Joliet, Chicago, Detroit, Louisville, Milwaukee, and St. Louis.

Future gatherings are being planned, and we hope that if one is to be held in your area, you will make it a point to free your calendar to attend.

In the meantime, don't forget Homecoming 1983, September 30 through October 2. Just for you, we put in a bid for beautiful weather for the weekend.

The following names were inadvertently dropped from the President's Report roster as loyal supporters of Saint Joseph's College. We sincerely regret the error.

Rev. William C. Abrahamson should be credited as a contributor from the Class of 1931.

Rev. William J. Coleman, M.M., should have been listed as a donor from the Class of 1932.

Dr. and Mrs. Michael J. Davis should have been credited under the level of $1,000 and up. Dr. Davis is also a Fellow.

Carol J. Wood is a Fellow and should have been credited for a level of $1,000 and up.

While we strive diligently to avoid mistakes, 100% success in this area seems to elude. We apologize to the above persons.

Collegiate Day

Gov. Robert Orr named August 18 Hoosier Collegiate Day at this year's Indiana State Fair, Indianapolis. SJC alumni and employees may enter two for the price of one by stopping at the Indiana Colleges and Universities booth in the University Building.

Dear Alumni/ae,

As I look back on my two years as Alumni Association President, many different thoughts and memories come to mind.

No doubt this is one of the most exciting times in Saint Joseph's history. The Capital Campaign is well on its way to reaching its $7,000,000 goal. The endless hours spent preparing and working on this project show what enthusiasm alumni and friends of the college have. A great deal of thanks goes out to all who have helped make the campaign a success. With the alumni phase of the program beginning, there is no doubt we will surpass our goal.

I have had the opportunity to meet many of you at alumni gatherings and Homecoming. It has given me great pleasure to know that our alumni have a great deal of pride in their school and its heritage. Saint Joe is on the move. The decade of the 80s is well underway and the college is making enormous strides in keeping up with the changing times. Thanks to people like you, both alumni and friends, Saint Joe's future looks bright.

The friendships I have made, I will always treasure. Thanks go out to all of you for your support and encouragement. I have enjoyed my two years immensely. Now, however, my term is up and my replacement, Tom Conde, '78, will be taking over.

Sincerely,
